Building Our Library For Future Reference

Construction of our library and the two other new buildings on Wesleyan's campus during the year 1951-1952 sets a theme for this record of events. As we watched the brick by brick progress of the library, we watched the episode by episode progress of the college year. Here in the 1952 MURMURMONTIS this progress is recorded.

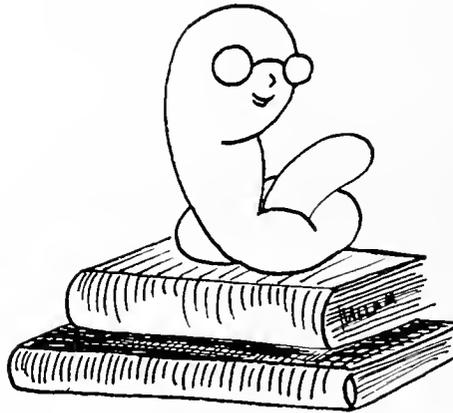

Building the Peiffer Memorial Library

The light in the world comes principally from two sources
—the sun and the student's lamp.

A teacher builded a temple
With loving and infinite care,
Planning each arch with patience,
Laying each stone with prayer.

None praised the unceasing efforts
None knew of her wondrous plan
For the temple the teacher builded
Was unseen by the eyes of man.

The 1950's were years of fear and confusion in a world mad for power. Everyone was concerned about peacetime and military uses for atomic energy . . . many of us found our way into the library to learn more about the stuff . . . and to write research papers . . .

For some of us, there was special help . . .

DEAN'S OFFICE STAFF

Clicking typewriters, adding machines, and mimeographs are a sign that Wesleyan's office staffs are at work. Busy from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., these men and women care for the "business end" of the college.

To the right of the main entrance of the Administration Building is the President's office with Miss Margaret Dean, the President's new secretary in the outer room. Across the hall is the entrance to the business office where Mr. Williams, treasurer, and his staff are in charge of Wesleyan's money and supplies.

Next to the business office is a suite of rooms where Dean Schoolcraft, his staff, and Miss Betty Furr, secretary to the dean, watch academic records. Although another full-time worker, Mrs. Orlo Strunk, is in the dean's office, the amount of correspondence and statistical work is enough to employ two part-time student workers, M. Wiles and B. Snyder.

On the second floor of the gymnasium is the Capital Funds office where Mr. Ling, assistant to the President, and his student secretary work.

Initiating a Dean's List, an all-campus suggestion box, and a mid-winter Homecoming were accomplishments of the Community Council. Other notable accomplishments included the adoption of a student Bill of Rights and a recommendation for a men's Interfraternity Council.

Wesleyanites realize the democratic possibilities of a community government wherein students, faculty, and administration work side by side. The council's authority touches all areas of campus life with the functioning of the awards, conduct, cultural enrichment, educational affairs, fraternities, house government, N.S.A. Campus, publications, religious activities, social activities, and student union committees.

The council met Friday afternoons at 4:00 with Merle Swearingen presiding over the meetings.

Representing the Senior and Junior classes this year were E. Banks, J. Beggs, C. Elkins, B. Birkhead, B. Crabb, and D. Taylor. N. Penn, L. Fisher, P. Scott and D. Smith were elected from the Sophomore and Freshman classes respectively. Two faculty members, Mr. Berisford and Mr. Messersmith, and four Administration members round out the picture.

W. A. A. Offers Recreational Opportunities For Co-eds

The Woman's Athletic Association on the campus of West Virginia Wesleyan College offers opportunities for every co-ed to participate in recreational activities. A local organization, the association is affiliated with The American Federation of College Women, a national organization for women athletic associations.

The Intramural Sports Program is sponsored by the W.A.A. and provides various tournaments in the fields of hockey, volleyball, basketball, softball, ping-pong, badminton and shuffleboard. Athletic awards are received by girls who participate in intramural programs.

Various activities are enjoyed by the members of W.A.A. during the year. Last fall the monthly meeting began with a wiener roast at the City Park. The annual Christmas Party was the highlight of the year with gifts distributed by the girls to the under-privileged children of Buckhannon. May Day festivities, in co-operation with other campus organizations, are also sponsored as well as the interfraternity sing contest on May Day.

The organization is one of the largest on campus, advised by Charlotte Kneppshield, director of Physical Education for women.

The officers for the year were: Helen Cronin, president; Barbara Reynolds, vice president; Joretta Proudfoot, secretary; Barbara Collins, treasurer; Shinako Masui, publicity chairman; and Joanne Robinson, song leader.

First row: C. Garrison, P. Gearwar, J. Harvey, J. Robinson, J. Proudfoot, H. Cronin, Miss Kneppshield, B. Reynolds, S. Masui, B. Collins, B. Bond, H. McKimney, B. Birkhead, J. Ferrell, J. Corrigan.

Standing: K. Saylor, L. Hsieh, J. Corrigan, J. Nelson, P. Kohl, E. Ferrell, M. Hathaway.

Psychology Club Stresses Experimentation, Fellowship

The West Virginia Wesleyan Psychological Society had an inactive organization on the campus this year. It has served as a "camping ground" for those students who are seriously interested in the field of psychology, giving them a broader opportunity to learn and to experiment with the principles upon which the science has been built.

The primary purpose of the organization is embedded in the hope that through study, experimentation, and hard work, intermingled with fellowship, the society may be proved to be valuable to its members.

To attain full membership in the club, a student must be working toward a major or a minor in psychology. Affiliated membership is granted to students seriously interested in bringing its aims into the realm of reality, but who do not declare a minimum of fifteen hours in the department.

An over-all program formerly included various subjects like propaganda and prejudice polls which the members worked on in previous years. Demonstrations in psychological measurements, and experiments with mazes, reaction time boards, extra sensory perception, and depth perception were conducted by different members of the group. The faculty advisor, Dr. Franquiz, addressed the group at their initial meeting of the current year.

A high point of this year was a field trip to the Davis and Elkins Mental Hygiene Club on February 28. The year was climaxed by helping to entertain the Academy of Science meeting at Wesleyan in May.

Officers for the current year are: Don McKita, president; Neil Penn, vice-president; Ken Miner, recording secretary; Ruth Guice, corresponding secretary; and Ruth Lautenslaker, treasurer.

Top: B. Menzel, P. Greenslet, E. Crisman, S. Devlin, J. B. Weaver, G. Patterson.

Bottom: S. Bragget, M. Labriola, G. Haley, P. Kohl, S. Devlin.

Pharos keys were awarded staff members obtaining 1000 points in working on the College paper. Previously no member of the staff was recognized for work or time done on the publication.

Another first for the paper was the Publications Workshop December 4. Department editors explained the fundamental working of the paper and the need for co-operation to meet deadlines. Dr. Marvin Downey spoke in the opening session emphasizing the influence of the press on society.

THE PHAROS is edited by the Introduction to Journalism class for the first time since the class existed. This enables students to experience journalistic practices as well as the theory of the course.

Four members of the editorial staff attended the Associated Collegiate Press Convention in Pittsburgh where ideas for making better college publications were exchanged.

Murmurmontis Staff Cooperates to Build Book

Building a yearbook, like building our new library, takes many workmen. The writer, photographer, artist, printer, cover maker, editor, business manager, and adviser contribute to the finished product. Each job is an essential part of the publication.

Every student helps in building the yearbook. Organization heads collect their groups for pictures and write facts for copy. Nevertheless, the greatest amount of student work falls on the staff.

The staff consists of department editors and their assistants. The 1952 staff includes: C. Garrison, editor; B. Collins, engraving editor; D. Sterling, J. Stone, P. Gearwar, K. Clark, and R. Collins, assistants; N. Penn, copy editor; J. Pustinger, B. Crabb, J. Allen, B. Sanson, J. Kees, and S. Devlin, assistants; B. Humphreys, R. Bias, and A. Swarthout, typists; J. Gabbert, sports editor, G. Haley, assistant.

Also: J. Nelson, photography editor with P. Martenay, N. Cochran and R. Green, assistants; P. Dawson, art editor with M. Labriola, J. Talbott, and H. Hallam as assistants; J. Felton, business manager with B. Barron, M. Wickerham, J. Ramsey, D. Moser, J. Cocchiarella, and J. Lenhart, assistants. The editorial adviser is Miss Esther Crisman and business adviser, Miss Elizabeth Koorkanian.

Playshop Offers Opportunities For Dramatic Work

West Virginia Wesleyan's Playshop is an organization giving students an opportunity to display their talent in play production. Actual acting behind the footlights, designing scenery, make-up, prompting, staging, business managing, or as business managers, offers experiences for drama students.

The work of this large organization consists of at least two three-act plays, several groups of three one-act plays, and various other dramatic productions. Unless one is a member of Playshop he misses the hustle and bustle behind the scenes, the horror of forgetting a line, the thrill of applause from an audience.

The Playshop is directed by John D. Shaver, professor of speech. The officers that led this year's Playshop through a successful season include: Pat Dawson, president; Barbara West, vice-president; and Juanita Corrigan, secretary-treasurer.

Philosophers Present Papers to Philosophical Society

Pi Epsilon Theta is one of the two chapters in the United States which belongs to the national philosophical fraternity. The first chapter is at the University of California; the second, and smaller of the two, is at West Virginia Wesleyan.

Twice a year the Wesleyan chapter prepares papers on philosophy to present to the West Virginia Philosophical Society. On October 20, Eugene Haal presented a paper entitled, "The Critical Realism of George Santayana," at the meeting at Davis and Elkins College. Charles Ellwood and Joseph Perez defended the paper.

The spring meeting of the Society was on Wesleyan's campus. The paper for Pi Epsilon Theta was presented by the president, Joseph Perez. The subject chosen for the paper was "Latin American Philosophy."

Something new was added to the regular meetings for this year. The members decided to discuss "Jesus—the Fact; Paul—the Theory," and open the meetings to other students who might be interested in the subject.

Plans have been made for the spring initiation and banquet which is one of the annual highlights of the year. This formal occasion is patterned after the impressive initiation at U.C.L.A.

The officers for the year are: Joseph Perez, president; Charles Ellwood, vice president; Jane Brown, secretary; Seth Bower, treasurer; Bill Brown, financial secretary.

Betty Lamp Club Produces Future Homemakers

BETTY LAMP

Seated: R. Guice, N. Cochran, K. Clark, B. Crabb.
Standing: M. Parker, B. Milligan, L. Hsieh, J. Hutson, H. McKimey, C. Garrison, M. Wickerham.

When you smell a delightful aroma in the Administration Building, you know that future homemakers are at work in the home economics rooms. These girls are members of the Betty Lamp Club.

They invited special guests to their meetings. A cosmetic demonstrator illustrated the proper use of make-up.

The club had a Christmas party for Eiko Yamashita, a student from Japan. Each girl gave Eiko a gift at the party in the home economics cottage. The girls helped serve the fall and mid winter home-coming barbecues.

The home economics cottage on Barbour Street is the prized possession of the home economics girls. Three or four home economics majors stay in the cottage for six weeks.

The Betty Lamp Club is under the capable direction of Miss Gladys Cronemeyer, professor of home economics. This year's officers are: K. Clark, president; B. J. Crabb, vice-president; N. Cochran, secretary; M. Zickaloose, treasurer; and M. Barb, program chairman.

Beta Beta Beta Plans to Aid In Landscaping The Campus

Beta Beta Beta is a national honorary fraternity for biology majors. The fraternity donated all the signs that are on the many varieties of trees on Wesleyan's campus. Future plans of Tri-Beta are to raise unusual plants and sell them to Buckhannon's housewives; to aid in the landscaping around the new buildings; and to clean out the old evergreen nursery and plant new trees.

Beta Beta Beta not only contributes to the campus but also makes many contributions to its members. Meetings feature reports from provisional members, discussions on the various regions of biology, or special speakers.

During the first semester eight provisional members were initiated. They were: Ruth Guice, Don Keister, Richard Beckman, Nellie Dorsey, Roy Christopher, Nicholas Sturm, Joseph Cocchiarella, and Hudson McMurtrie.

The officers for the school year, 1951-1952 are: Mary Buffington, president; Martha Linger, secretary-treasurer; James Beggs, historian. The fraternity's faculty adviser is Dr. George Rossbach, professor of biology.

Delta Psi Kaps Check Coats At Games

In the fall of 1951, ten members of Delta Psi Kappa returned to Wesleyan. Ideas for making money for the girls included a check room for the basketball games and programs for the tournament.

The Psi Kaps became known as the Bobkittens through the intercollegiate hockey team. The Bobkittens finished an exciting season with one victory, one loss, and two ties.

The girls enjoyed doing their bit for the Wesleyantics show at Homecoming. Their act was called "Bathing Suit Style Show," and suits were modeled from "Grandma's day to '52."

The elected officers were: Jenny Belle Weaver, president; Mary Buffington, vice-president; Betty Jo Birehead, secretary; and Helen Cronin, treasurer.

The pledging of seven new girls was in December and initiation for these girls was held March 2.

First row: H. Cronin, J. Weaver, M. Buffington.

Second row: Miss Kneppshild, M. Linger, C. Burke, B. Bond, H. McKinney, B. Birehead.

Third row: B. Collins, D. Moser, O. Laucks, P. Gearwan, J. Corrigan, J. Ferrell.

Alpha Psi's List Many Accomplishments In Dramatics

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Seated: B. West, J. Felton, C. Burke.

Standing: J. Keith, G. Garrison, A. Cover.

Alpha Psi Omega started the school year by initiating Connie Garrison, James Keith, and Arnold Cover. Qualifications for membership are based upon meritorious and outstanding participation in college dramatics. At the beginning of second semester, Louis Fisher, Patrick Dawson, Mildred Hathaway, and Gerald Cunningham were asked to join.

Here are some of the accomplishments of Alpha Psi's this year: Five Alpha Psi's had major roles in the fall production "Servant in the House;" Colleen Burke directed and Barbara West acted in "Enter the Hero," a one act play; Arnold Cover directed "Spreading the News" and Patrick Dawson directed and acted in "The Neighbors," both one act plays; Arnold Cover was chosen as director of Wesleyantics; Colleen Burke, Barbara West, Arnold Cover, and Louis Fisher entertained Wesleyan students with song and dance interpretations at numerous social functions.

The officers for the school year are: Joanna Felton, president; Colleen Burke, vice-president; Barbara West, secretary-treasurer.

Science Marches On With Benzene Ring In Step

Science marches on! And the Benzene Ring is right in step. The homecoming crowd was surprised to see, before their very eyes, the transformation of a shy freshman into an enthusiastic Wesleyan graduate by the application of a few simple chemical principles. The yield from this experiment was the trophy for second prize in Wesleyantics.

The Benzene Ring, the oldest organization on campus, was organized in 1920. Originally for anyone interested in science, the Benzene Ring is now composed of chemistry majors and minors having an average of "C" or above in chemistry. In 1949 the group became a chapter of Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society.

A number of years ago, a science library was established by the Ring for the use of science students.

The Crowning of the Camphor King has become a tradition of the Benzene Ring. Each year the student of Organic Chemistry who prepares the purest and the largest sample of camphor from turpentine, by the classical method, is honored by the Ring. This ceremony is now an important part of the Annual Strawberry Breakfast of the Benzene Ring, a combination farewell to graduating members and welcome to alumni of the Ring who are here for graduation.

Following the annual initiation of 1951-1952, a hamburger fry replaced the usual refreshments served in chemical apparatus.

The Ring meets bi-monthly to hear lectures by prominent chemists or to enjoy student demonstrations. The group is directed by its founder, Dr. Nicholas Hyma.

Richard Beckman and Pierre Marteney were elected to represent Wesleyan at the Eastern College Science Conference, April, in Pittsburgh. It acted as host for the Academy of Science at Wesleyan this year.

The officers were: Marjorie Young, president; Howard Naeser, vice president; Pierre Marteney, secretary; James Beggs, treasurer; and Michael Karickhoff, sergeant-at-arms.

Future Teachers Broaden Educational Interests

Recognizing that the need for well-qualified teachers is great, the potential teachers of Wesleyan strive to be well prepared for the positions which they will command. Banding together in the national association of the Future Teachers of America, students try to be the best teachers they know how to be.

This year's activities were inaugurated with a report and discussion of Morris P. Shawkey, an educator for whom Wesleyan's chapter was named. In a later meeting, Dean A. A. Schoolcraft explained certificate requirements for teachers and open fields of teaching. Students discussed questions concerning education.

Members of the F.T.A. were honored to have Miss Corma Mowrey of Charleston, West Virginia, former president of the National Education Association, speak at a dinner meeting in February. Miss Mowrey chose as her topic "The Rights and Responsibilities of Teachers."

The annual spring banquet, in the college dining hall, was the climax of the yearly program. The Future Teachers chose a speaker from the State or National Education Association.

One of the outstanding constructive projects of the group this year was the writing and adopting of a constitution. This constitution changed the duties of the officers, the election procedures, and numerous other functions of the organization.

When founded in 1941, the Morris P. Shawkey Chapter was granted the fifth charter in the state of West Virginia. The chapter is composed of thirty-six students interested in furthering education and dedicated to building a democratic civilization.

The officers for the year were as follows: Joanne Robinson, president; Mary Peyton, vice-president; Connie Garrison, secretary; Mary Kritzer, treasurer; Martha Linger, program chairman; Samuel Ross, librarian; Dr. James Hupp, advisor.

Have you seen a girl on campus with a huge sign on her back, a pair of hornrimmed glasses on her nose, and a bag of candy kisses clutched in her hand? It's a Haught girl. This informal initiation follows a more solemn candlelight ceremony when those chosen for membership are formally initiated.

Haught Literary Society is the most exclusive organization on campus. Only sixteen girls become members. A potential member, nominated by a graduating senior, must have unanimous consent of the group before she is invited to join it.

The purpose of Haught Literary Society is to develop and encourage literary interests. At the meeting each week, the girls answer the roll call with a quote which is chosen and posted in the library. One girl leads the program in giving a book review, telling a story, or reading some selected poems; these readings are usually accompanied by a biographical sketch of the author. Guest speakers sprinkle the programs and the year is climaxed with a banquet in the spring.

The officers for this school year are: Mona Harris McKee, president; Barbara Harless, vice-president; Barbara West, secretary.

Explorer Post Blazes Trails In West Virginia

The Explorer Post 129 of the Boy Scouts of America was organized for Wesleyan students who want to continue their scouting careers or to become scouts for the first time. The Post was chartered by the Central West Virginia Council on February 29, 1948. This unique post is the only such organization of its kind in the United States today.

The 1951-52 trail was blazed under the leadership of the Post Committee: Dr. Scarborough, Dr. Hupp, and Mr. Recmsnyder. The Institutional Representative, Mr. Shaver, and Post Advisers, Dr. Rossbach and Mr. Berisford, accompanied the boys on their explorations. Student officers were: David Shaw, Post Adviser; James Remley, Assistant Post Adviser; Robert Cassell, Scribe; and Fred Standley, Quartermaster.

After open house and admitting new members, there was a seventeen mile hike over Shaver's Mountain. A few weeks later the Explorers visited the Ohio River valley, enjoying an interesting week-end exploring the various mounds. Spring events planned included a trip to the Planetarium and observatory at Alderson-Broaddus College, a trip to Blackwater Falls and Seneca Caverns, exploration of uncharted Sharpe's Cave in Pocahontas County, and various hikes and overnight campouts.

Group Ministry Rides Miles In A Successful Year

"Ten Thousand Bumpy Miles" might be the title for a typical semester program of the Wesleyan Group Ministry—for in the September-January semester of 1954-1955, the "carry-all" wound its way over ten thousand miles of West Virginia roads, carrying ten student ministers to their individual churches.

This past year has created several changes in the operation of this unique ministerial service. First, a new director in the fall of 1951, the Reverend Mr. Donald Flynn. His seminary and graduate training in religious education has proved valuable in the organization and operation of the Group Ministry. Connie Garrison, part-time secretary to Mr. Flynn, has served the project admirably in the difficult task of keeping proper records and recording the activities of the student ministers.

Though material compensation is relatively low for these "modern circuit riders," they are paid a consistent and moderate salary. It is the sincere desire of the Group Ministry to give regular worship services, intelligent church-school and youth instructions, and sincere and helpful counseling to the small rural church.

The Group Ministry is a prominent example of Christian service sprouting from the campus of West Virginia Wesleyan.

House Governing Board Makes Dorm Life Pleasant

B. Collins, M. Hathaway, B. Crabb, B. Dawson, B. Reynolds, B. Sanson, M. Linger, B. Barron.

A well-known organization on Wesleyan's campus is the House Governing Board. The main objective of this organization is to help Wesleyan women strive for better living in their school, strengthen character, and develop social life.

The House Board is composed of a delegate from each class and four officers elected by the entire house. The Board meets once a week to formulate discipline, plan various activities, post "Campuses," and hear special cases.

Each month the board plans pajama parties featuring fun and refreshments. Birthdays are celebrated each month honoring women who have birthdays during that respective month. The House Governing Board is also responsible for the seating arrangements in the dining room.

The officers of the Board are elected in the spring. This year's officers are: Marty Linger, president; Bee Jay Crabb, vice president; Barbara Barron, secretary; Barbara Collins, treasurer; Millie Hathaway, Senior representative; Barbara Reynolds, Junior representative; Betty Sanson, Sophomore representative; and Barbara Dawson, Freshman representative.

New Constitution Provides Growth For C. S. F.

The Christian Service Fellowship is growing every year—in number and insight to new and better ways of Christian living. The organization was improved by writing and adopting a new constitution. Under the new constitution C.S.F. is expected to grow even more in years to come, for it provides for programs of greater interest and reaches more people.

The program of the C.S.F. consists of weekly Tuesday afternoon meetings for the purpose of spiritual enrichment, and a monthly social and business meeting in the Student Union. The weekly meetings include meditations, outstanding speakers, book reviews, and discussions. At the social meetings members enjoy games, singing, fun, and refreshments.

Any person who will take seriously the following commitment may become a member of C.S.F.:

- I agree to remain holy in all manner of conversation and thought.
- I will, inasmuch as it is possible, lead a pure life and strive by a living example to reveal Christ to the lives of others.
- I resolve to devote myself wholly to God and His work.
- I will strive to be cooperative, understanding, temperate, just, merciful, humble, and at all times concerned for the welfare of others.

I agree to set aside a portion of each day for private devotions.

A major project, traditional with the C.S.F., is the annual Christmas party for needy school children in the surrounding area. The objective is to provide the children with the fun and thrills connected with the Christmas spirit which they might not otherwise have the opportunity of experiencing. The big moment is the entry of Santa Claus with a bundle of toys to be distributed among the children. It is through the cooperation of the local churches and other persons in the community that this service is made possible. Another project is that of providing worship services for the men at the Prison Labor Camp each Sunday afternoon. Thus, C.S.F. is an organization of Christian service and Christian fellowship.

The officers are: Chuck Ellwood, president; Bill Brown, vice-president; Esther Ferrell, secretary; Wesley Bone, treasurer; Dick Guice, chairman of publicity and membership; Joyce Pustinger, music chairman; and the Reverend Mr. Don Flynn, adviser.

Panhellenic Encourages Interfraternal Relations

The purpose of the Panhellenic Council is to promote friendly interfraternal relations among the three sororities, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Xi Delta, and Alpha Gamma Delta. This council, consisting of two representatives from each sorority, serves as an advisory group, establishes "rushing rules," and plans co-operative programs for the year. It is the aim of this group to establish and maintain a high standard of fraternal and school life.

May Day 1951 the council initiated a new tradition in honoring Pat Meade as the most outstanding promoter of interfraternal relationships for the year.

In the fall the activities started with a Workshop, a tea for all Freshman girls planning to join a sorority, and a "Tapping" dance. This dance gave recognition to one outstanding girl from each sorority who had proven herself worthy of the honor. The girls tapped were Jackie Corl, Mary McCutcheon, and Martha Fallon. Engraved bracelets were presented to these pledges. The May Day sing followed in the spring.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Standing: C. Burke, J. Beggs, M. Labriola, J. Proudfoot.

The Interfraternity Committee, as a segment of the Community Council, functioned this year in place of the Interfraternity Council.

The Committee sponsored a successful dance in the early fall, laying a welcome mat open to the members of the Freshmen Class from the Greek organizations.

Members serving on this Committee were the Presidents of the six fraternal organizations. These were: Sarah Meek of Alpha Delta Pi, Betty Post of Alpha Gamma Delta, and Colleen Burke of Alpha Xi Delta; Bill Neely of Kappa Alpha, Merle Swearinger of Theta Chi, and Bill Fuller of Alpha Sigma Phi.

The Committee did not assume a governing role regarding rushing, but attempted to achieve participation on the part of all six groups in specific activities.

A permanent Interfraternity Committee of the men's fraternities was formed late this year by the Community Council to function in the same manner as Panhellenic does for sororities. In the future these two organizations will replace the Interfraternity Council.

Alpha Gams Win Scholarship Award

Alpha Omicron, Wesleyan's chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta, started the school year by winning the scholarship award for their province. This award, a sterling silver tray, was presented to the chapter by Ruth Andrew, scholarship advisor, at the fall rushing party.

Alpha Gamma Delta, social fraternity, was founded May 30, 1904, Syracuse University, New York. It grew rapidly, for there are now over sixty chapters. May 20, 1948, marks the date when Sigma Pi Delta, local sorority on Wesleyan's campus, became affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta.

The officers for the year 1951-1952 were Betty Post, president; Marg Young, first vice-president; Eleanor Banks, second vice-president; Margaret Ellen Barb, recording secretary; Dornie Hauptli, corresponding secretary; Eleanor Banks, treasurer; and Helen Stoekert, faculty advisor.

An October hayride began the year's social activities. There were no ill effects from the ride, but evidently one of the horses that pulled the wagon couldn't take it, for he died of a stroke two days later.

The formal rush party at the Country Club had as its theme, "An Evening in Paris." Alpha Omicron pledged nine girls, Patricia Scott, Rosalie Shepherd, Barbara Dawson, Jacqueline Corl, Beverly Hamrick, Hilda Watson, Lois Ann McWhorter, Eleanor Jo Zinn, and Mary Casella.

A surprise was in store for the sorority when alumni patronesses in Buckhannon entertained them with a Halloween party. Pledges and actives came in costume, and prizes were given for the most original, funniest, and prettiest costumes.

Homecoming was an extra special event for Eleanor Banks was elected Queen. A skit in "Wesleyantics" presented a south of the border theme and a float depicting Wesleyan's future was entered in the parade.

Big and little sisters had fun at a Christmas party in the Student Union. Presents were exchanged, carols sung, games played and refreshments relished. A Resolution Dance followed in January.

Then came the second semester rush party, February 10. The theme was oriental, and tiny Chinese parasols were given as favors, along with red carnations. To entertain the rushees a floor show was presented, featuring two trios and a pledge quartet. Fruit punch, decorated sandwiches, and cupcakes were served. The results of second semester rushing were five girls: Jean Allen, Margaret Brooke, Carol Cornell, Eudoris Gideon, and Joanne Ramsey.

The initiation of Helen Stockert, faculty advisor, into the chapter on March 1, was one of the highlights of the year.

Other outstanding events included a turn-about party on February 14 in which the actives and pledges took their dates to the movies. The major event of the year was the spring formal in May.

Alpha Gams do not exist only for parties and scholarship. Their altruistic work is important, too. Each year a number of bake sales are conducted, the profits of which go toward helping children afflicted with cerebral palsy. Chapters all over the United States and Canada share this important work.

Friendship Is Alpha Delta Pi's Highest Ideal

Top: S. Meek, W. Post, O. Lancks, J. Reed.
Bottom: D. Earnest, B. Childress, A. Ryckman, E. Wright.

The week of most activity and intensity of spirit for Alpha Delta Pi is known as Friendship Week. During this period the pledges are given their final grooming for membership in the oldest sorority in the United States. The beginning is a ceremony at which each pledge is given a blue and white ribbon to wear during the week. Both pledges and actives review the ideals of integrity, scholarship, and social grace, upon which Alpha Delta Pi was founded and has spread her bond of sisterhood.

Friendship Week is so called because it is the time when special emphasis is placed on the ideals of kindness and courtesy which are observed throughout the year. Each day the pledge is given some special deed to perform by her big sister to point up these ideals. No act of indignity to any person is countenanced by Alpha Delta Pi. During the week actives and pledges attend campus activities as a group. The main social event of the week is the dance given in honor of the pledges. The week is climaxed by the impressive initiation ceremony followed by a banquet. At the banquet two pledges are honored, one for her scholastic standing and the other for having written the best essay on "What Alpha Delta Pi Means to Me."

The ADPI's came back to Wesleyan in September anxious to hear Winifred Post and Sarah Meek tell about the Centennial Convention at Macon. Enough was found on their post cards to tantalize their sisters. The souvenirs of the hundredth anniversary, as well as the girls' reports lived up to expectations.

Plans for the year were real successes. The novel "Shipwreck" party complete with ocean, palm trees, and "Sand Bar" dreamed up by vivid imaginations was a gay affair. Homecoming brought out the artists in the group with a beautiful float, and the skit "You're in the Army Now" provided laughs for Wesleyantics.

Pledges proved themselves by taking us on a sensational trip to the "Chat le Noir." Real Christmas spirit was felt as gifts were wrapped for the Kappa Sigma Pi home for children in Clarksburg, and in joining the All-Campus caroling party. A theater party showed dates that these girls are a sympathetic group.

"THE" social event of the year was the traditional Black and White Diamond Formal which follows the theme of the symbol diamond shaped pin. The ADPI's were joyful singers in the May Day Sing. More so because of the memory that Patricia Meade received the first Panhellenic Award on this campus for the girl who did the most to promote inter-sorority good will.

Alpha Xi's Win First Prize With Skit In Wesleyantics

Alpha Xi's climaxed the school year of 1951 by winning first place in the May Day Sing. The girls wore navy blue dotted Swiss dresses with white accessories. At the throat of each Beta Sigma girl was a single pink rose, the flower of the Alpha Xi Delta.

A picturesque Rush Party began the activities of the current school year. The girls witnessed the "mock" wedding of "Alpha Xi Delta" and "The Rushee" and, afterwards, attended the wedding banquet. Following an enjoyable evening of dancing, ten girls pledged Alpha Xi Delta.

Highlighting the annual Fall Homecoming was Wesleyantics. Each organization presented a skit for the program the first evening. The cup for first place was awarded to the Alpha Xi Delta sorority for their skit, "Love Letters." The stage was divided into three parts. On the left, one of the girls sang "Love Letters" as she gazed upon the picture of a boy in the armed forces. Members of the Alpha Xi Delta sextette joined in the chorus. As the spot-light moved to the right of the stage, a ballet dancer in flaming red broke the seal of the letter and climbed from it. Climaxing the ballet, the spirit fell into a deep slumber.

A Santa Claus Party brought Christmas to twelve children in the Buckhannon area. The children played games in the gaily trimmed room until sleigh bells announced the arrival of Santa Claus. Each child received gifts of toys, candy, and clothing.

The Beta Sigma Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta displayed their ability when the Dean's List was publicized after first semester. Seven on the list were Alpha Xi's—a record of which the sorority is quite proud.

However, along with this academic record, the girls found plenty of time for other fraternity activities. The Sweetheart Pledge Dance in February was one of the nicest dances of the year. Entering the dance floor through a large heart, couples were amazed to look up into a cloud of hearts—one of which was labeled with their names. The ceiling of the room was draped with red and white crepe paper, and sentimental valentines decked the walls. During the evening, each active gave her little sister the traditional pledge paddle.

Top: J. Weaver, J. Eyle.
Bottom: H. Canterbury, M. Fallon, L. Hsieh.

The first semester pledges treated the actives to a "Carnival Party," complete with pop corn, hot dogs, and side shows. Second semester rushing centered around the theme, "A Rose Garden." Two girls pledged Alpha Xi.

The high point of the year's social activities was the Rose Formal in the Spring. During the evening, the couples danced through a rose archway where the girls "pin" their dates.

Alpha Sigs Improve House, Publish News Letter

Although Beta Nu of Alpha Sigma Phi began this year with the handicap of a reduced membership, they have been fortunate in initiating ten new members. They were: Robert Bitten, William Cox, Austin Cox, Frank Floyd, William Holbert, Parker Hood, James Lenhart, David Ours, William Stackman, and Charles West. The ceremony was preceded by a candle-light dinner.

At homecoming Alpha Sigma Phi received the first prize for house decorations. After the theme of the annual celebration "Raise the Roof" seven cardboard lifesize caricatures of faculty members playing musical instruments forming an orchestra was constructed. The house was decorated with red and grey streamers, to give a night club setting.

Beta Nu has been socially active this year. They had several stag parties, a card party in November, and a Christmas party for the brothers and their dates by the Housemother, Mrs. Herold. The crowning social event, however, was the annual spring formal dance at the Waldo Hotel in Clarksburg on April 18. As usual, this highlight in the social calendar attracted the attention of alumni brothers. Several faculty guests were entertained at dinner, including a going-away banquet for Mr. Berisford.

Athletically, Beta Nu has not been outstanding this year. They participated with keen interest in intramural football, basketball, and softball.

They are especially proud of the new addition to the house which was constructed by members. An extension to the kitchen was built above which was constructed a chapter meeting room. Maroon curtains, new slip covers for the furniture and a beautiful trophy case are among the significant additions to the living room.

The officers of Beta Nu for the past year have been: William Fuller, president; Robert Menzel, vice-president; Charles Billings, treasurer; Ralph Ritter and James Lenhart, secretaries; Richard Dunn, corresponding secretary; Leon Lantz, sergeant-at-arms; Fred Rusmisell, associate-editor; and David Ours, marshal. The other members of Alpha Sigma Phi are: William Burner, Raymond Crispin, William Foss, Berlin Karlen, William Queen, William Tenney, and Martin Welles.

The fraternity sought to promote better public relations. A public relations committee was formed under the guidance of national headquarters. This committee served to cause an attitude of awareness that a fraternity is definitely a part of college life, and therefore helps to make the members more conscious of their fraternity-college role.

Machinery for sending out a chapter newsletter to alumni has been established. This letter helps to keep Wesleyan graduates in closer contact with the college and fraternity.

Alpha Sigma Phi looks forward to next year with the confidence that it will be a real success. Best wishes are extended to the students, faculty, and alumni of Wesleyan for the coming year.

Old South Ball Highlights KA's Year

Kappa Alpha Order had its origin in a fraternity organized by students at Washington College, Lexington, Virginia, in December, 1865, soon after General Robert E. Lee became president of that institution. Robert E. Lee is the spiritual founder of this Order.

To date, the Order directs eighty-four active chapters throughout the country with well over forty thousand members. The membership in these chapters ranges from ten to fifty men, depending largely upon the size of the student body of the institution in which they are located. Beta Chi Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order was the first national fraternity on Wesleyan's Campus. BX was established as a chapter in 1929.

This has been a successful year at Beta Chi in spite of the fact that several members received "Greetings—you've had it" notices from Uncle Sam. After the first rush party sixteen boys were pledged.

The fraternity house received an internal "face lifting job" before classes started in September. The kitchen was painted, and three of the rooms and the hallway downstairs were papered. James Zornes did most of this work.

The social calendar included a hayride and weiner roast at the beginning of the semester, later a Halloween party at the fraternity house and, in keeping with the Christmas spirit, an informal Christmas party highlighted by a beautifully decorated tree.

There was an alumni banquet the last week in January, in which Rev. William Frampton, one of the councilors of the Order, presented a charter to the newly founded alumni chapter.

March 1 was the annual Old South Ball. Carefully cultivated beards and Confederate gray marked the occasion. Kirk Saylor, after several months of careful grooming, won the respect of all Brothers by displaying a fine beard. Les Birksmaier also sported a becoming crop of "face lettuce," while Bud Holby distinguished himself with his dashing red sideburns. The combination of Confederate uniforms and tonsorial growths contributed a realistic touch to the festivities.

At the end of the first semester, Bill Neely, the No. 1 graduated and Bill Sperling was elected to replace him. After attending officer's school and convention in Mississippi in the summer, Bill Neely was responsible for establishing the alumni chapter before he graduated.

Kappa Alpha participated in every intramural activity and although they were not outstanding in football they took the volleyball championship undefeated. They made a good showing in basketball.

Chi's Mimic Romans; Publish "Chatter"

G. Kenneweg and Homecoming Float.

Starting the year with forty-one returning active members, Delta Gamma chapter of Theta Chi added nine new pledges to the roster after their fall rush party. The pledges were: Howard Allwine, Robert Bargeloh, Dale BeVier, Ted Come, James Keith, Don O'Dell, Pat Spiegel, Alton Taylor, and Stanton Walker.

Following the second semester rush party Jack Bennett, Dana George, James Herr, Richard Marrs, Jean Nelson, Gene Roach, Don Smith and Scott Tharp pledged Theta Chi.

A number of unique and fun filled parties were enjoyed by the lads of 104 Barbour Street throughout the year. Outstanding was the "Old Roman" party. The first floor of the fraternity house was converted into a replica of old Rome and the members and their dates dressed themselves in flashy togas. Roman games and dancing provided entertainment. The social event of the year was the Spring Formal which was enjoyed by everyone.

The intramural scene found Theta Chi participating in every sport. They went undefeated for the second straight season in football to capture the intramural football trophy which is awarded to the team that is champ for two out of three seasons or two years in succession.

Something new that was added to the list of accomplishments for this group was the "Theta Chi Chatter," a news letter sent out to the alumni of Delta Gamma each month. Its purpose is to keep alums informed of happenings of the chapter and what's going on about campus.

Theta Chi's are represented in campus offices and on the varsity basketball, baseball and tennis teams.

Some of the members took week-end trips to other chapters during the months. One of the highlights of these trips was a basketball game with Alpha Kappa chapter at West Virginia University which the locals easily won.

According to their tradition, when one of the brothers loses his head and pins the girl of his dreams, they serenade the young miss. A number of the boys bit the dust so Theta Chi's were kept busy with the enjoyable task of serenading the sweethearts.

April found eleven members journeying to Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the Regional Corral at Case Institute. Five of the boys went to the Corral last year at the University of Pittsburgh. The corral is a round-up of all the chapters in the region so they can get together and work out the problems of the various chapters.

In the early part of September six actives plan to travel to Los Angeles, California to take part in the National Convention. This will be the first contingent to ever represent Delta Gamma at a National Convention.

During the Homecoming celebration Theta Chi entered every activity offered to help "Raise The Roof."

Now that the school year has closed the members of Theta Chi fraternity look forward to another successful year, and would like to wish the graduating class the best of luck in their conquest of the uncertain future.

Musical Expression Is Found In Choir and Orchestra

Wesleyan musicians express their talent through the choir, the band, and the orchestra.

The West Virginia Wesleyan Choir, consisting of forty-seven members, was selected through audition by the new music professor and director, Robert E. Shafer.

The choir participated in many programs at Wesleyan including the Chapel service every Tuesday morning. It also furnished the music for Religious Emphasis Week, Commencement and other special occasions throughout the year.

Thirty-seven members were selected from the regular choir to tour West Virginia, Maryland, and Pennsylvania. The Tour Choir made two three-day tours and several one-day tours during the school year.

The Wesleyan College Orchestra is a regularly scheduled curricular offering of the department of music. The organization is designed as a practical medium for the experience and musical expression on the part of the instrumental majors.

The music department presented Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado in the spring of 1951. In 1952 the department presented three one-act operas: Weil's Down in the Valley, Menatti's The Telephone, and Gilbert and Sullivan's Trial By Jury.

Barbara Kuhn marched with the band and did numerous solo performances with an effective twirling act that kept spectators interested and applauding.

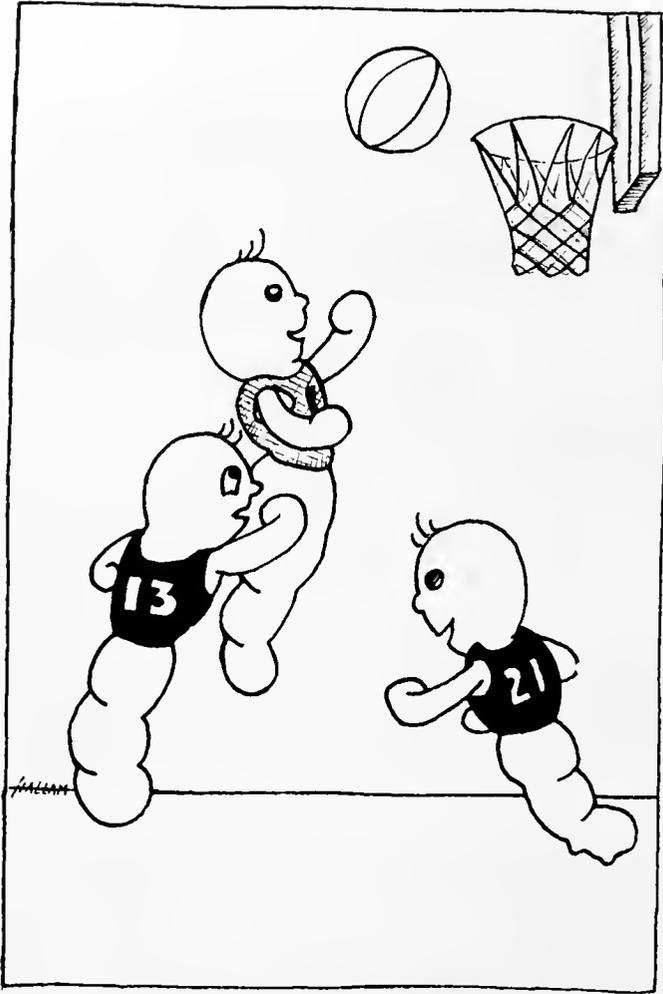

The Quartet, Bill Pierce, Graham Kenneweg, Don Smith, and Howard Allwine, was kept busy spreading good will and good music in many interesting singing engagements.

Although Wesleyan did not participate in intercollegiate football last fall, the sport prevailed for those who ventured to the athletic field each evening to watch or play intramurals. Ably refereed by Dave Reemsnnyder's officiating class, touch football provided thrills for the observers as well as the participant.

Six teams were entered in the league, each capable of playing good football. Theta Chi, with Captain Don Taylor calling the plays, had their usual good players, at times employing the two platoon system. The Rumrunners were back with their dangerous attack under the direction of "Rip" Haley and Joe Perez. The Pioneers entered a fast running team with Matt Kuhn at the helm. Rounding out the card were the Alpha Sigs, speeded on by frosh Bill Cox; Fertile Valley, led by Gene Patterson, and the Kappa Alpha spurred by Howard Kight.

As the season got under way, it became apparent that the teams to beat were Theta Chi, Rumrunners, and Pioneers. The championship was not decided until the final game between Theta Chi and the Pioneers, which Theta Chi won to complete their second year undefeated, and to take the prized trophy.

Bobkittens Close Second Hockey Season

With a cry of "Ground, stick, ground, stick—!" field hockey was again the order of the day. In their second season of inter-collegiate field hockey, Wesleyan's Bobkittens compiled a record of one win, one loss, and two ties. The season opened at home with the Kittens playing West Virginia University. The University girls proved no match as Wesleyan rolled to a 7-1 win. In the second game, Coach Charlotte Knepschild's charges traveled to Davis and Elkins, where they played to a 5-5 tie. The next game was played at home, with D. & E. scoring a 2-0 triumph over the local girls.

Fairmont furnished the opposition in the final encounter, which was also played at home. The hard-fought game ended in a 1-1 deadlock to write lims to the season.

Girls Play Intramural Sports For Fun

Just right for a hockey game! The night's bitter cold, everybody's wearing an overcoat; that is, everyone except the girls on the field. They're dressed in shorts, shirts, and shin guards—!

Tonight is the playoff between Freshman team No. 2 and the Seniors. The Seniors beat Freshman team No. 1 by a close score of 1 to 0 while Freshman team No. 2 defeated the Juniors by an identical score of 1 to 0 to get into the finals. The game is close and both teams fight hard all the way. The Seniors finally emerge victorious by that seemingly magic score of 1 to 0.

Now let's turn attention to volleyball—next on the girls' intramural sports' list. This game requires skill and team work just as hockey, but the girls can enjoy this game in warmer surroundings!

Freshman volleyball teams are led by Barbara Kuhn, Jean Allen, and Carol Cornell. The Seniors are captained by Helen Cronin, the Juniors by Winnie Post, and the Sophomores by Barbara Collins.

Many hard-fought games later left Post's team and Kuhn's team in first place with the same records. Their crucial contest ended with Post's group being beaten and Kuhn's club being proclaimed champion.

Late Winning Streak Gives High Hopes For Next Year

Slated to be one of the toughest teams in the conference in pre-season dope, Hank Ellis' Bobcats played "hot and cold" basketball until near the end of the season, when in a game winning streak and a rash of points, they proved themselves to be capable of beating some of the best teams in the conference.

Wesleyan played twenty-one conference games plus non-conference tilts with W. Va. University, Marshall College, and two games with Marietta College.

In the opening game, the Bobcats traveled to W. Va. University. The Mountaineers, remembering last year's close call with Wesleyan, were better prepared to meet the Bobcats, and as a result the game ended with Wesleyan on the short end of a 72-41 score. The Bobcats next journeyed to Phillipi for their first conference game with Alderson-Broadus. After a close game with the Battlers, Wesleyan returned home victorious by a 61-55 count. The next two games found the Ellismen at home, defeating Marietta and losing a close one, 59-63 to W. Va. Tech, who was again destined to become the top team in the conference.

As the season progressed, Wesleyan compiled a record of seven wins against ten losses. At this point, the Bobcats defeated Fairmont 71-55, in what was the turning point of the season, and went on to win six of their last seven games. This series included decisive wins over such top teams as Morris Harvey, 77-63 and Davis & Elkins 72-66. During this time Wesleyan in what was the highlight of regular season play, defeated Shepherd 111-71 to establish a new scoring record for the school. In their final game against Beckley, the century mark was almost reached again as Wesleyan won 95-55.

The all over record was 14 wins against 11 losses. Against conference foes the record was 13-8, good for fifth place in the final conference standings.

In determining an outstanding player one would have difficulty because of the abundance of good men. The squad included outstanding freshmen such as Michael O'Toole, Edward Hood, John Pitcher, Jack Hawkins and 6' 9" Robert Chatfield, besides able veterans such as Loren Brake, Ted Come, Herbert Lelfard, Tom Carroll, George Danovich, Charles Elkins.

Herb Lelfard led the scoring with 238 points for a 10.8 per game average. Close behind were Jack Hawkins and Tom Carroll with 207 and 200 points respectively.

Wesleyan's prospects for the coming year look very bright as only one player will be lost through graduation from the group mentioned. With the return of such a brigade of basketeers, Wesleyan should consistently show the superiority which was so prevalent at times during the past season.

As the season ended, the Bobcats, a team definitely improved due to better teamwork and higher spirits, went into the W.V.I.C. tournament with confidence.

Wesleyan Sets Records In Tournament Games

In the tournament, Wesleyan established several new records. They were: most points scored in three games, (276); most field goals in one game, (42); most assists in one game, (11).

In their first game with Shepherd, Wesleyan topped the hundred point mark for the second time this season in winning 103-78. W. Va. Tech was the Bobcats' second victim, being defeated by a 94-74 count.

Although setting a new scoring record in the semi-final game, the Ellismen could not seem to muster up enough points to overcome a seven point deficit as Morris Harvey won, 85-78.

Honors went to Tom Carroll and Herb Lefard, who were selected for the all-tournament team. Carroll is a repeater from last year. Elaine Culpepper also received honors in being selected as one of the three outstanding cheerleaders of the tournament.

Cheerleaders Create Spirit and Enthusiasm

M. Brooke, M. Swearingen, E. Culpepper

"Come on now, let's give a big loud Wesleyan Locomotive! W-E-S-L-E-Y-A-N . . ."

The cheerleaders play an important part in the athletic program by creating spirit and enthusiasm in Wesleyan's fans. This year's group did a fine job in fulfilling this purpose.

This season, the squad, through the decision of the Athletic Committee, has been narrowed from five to three persons. Merle Swearingen was head cheerleader, Elaine Culpepper, Sophomore representative, and Margaret Brooke, Freshman representative. This trio traveled to many of the "Away" games as well as inspiring the crowd at all home games.

Highlights of the year were the introduction of a new school song through the combined efforts of the sophomore class and the cheerleaders. Titled "Wesleyan School Song," it was written by Ross Culpepper, a Wesleyan graduate. Another spirit raiser was "Bear" Swearingen's rendition of "Shout Halleluiah," a new cheer introduced by Don Taylor.

In climax to an enjoyable basketball season, Elaine Culpepper was selected as the second best cheerleader at the basketball tournament.

" . . . Fight!"

Tennis Team Hopes To Improve Record

J. Perez, M. Bullington, G. Kenneweg

Because of the early date of publication, a summary of this year's tennis matches cannot be included. Therefore a brief review of last year's team is presented.

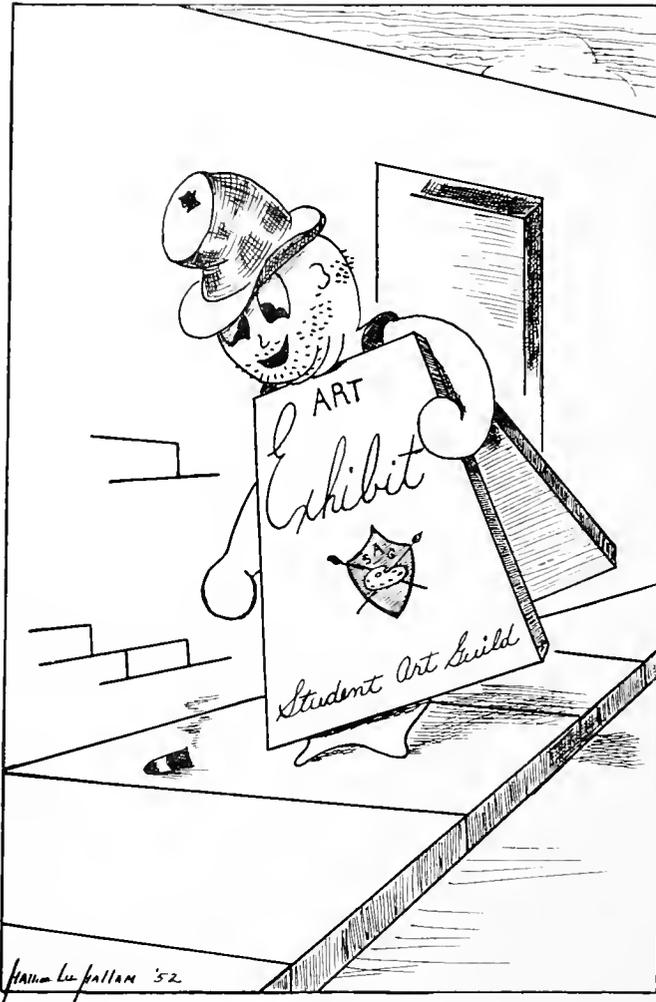

The weatherman was again the team's toughest foe, causing team members to take their equipment to the gym to practice. The lack of sufficient practice was the greatest reason for last year's disastrous season.

Playing West Virginia University, Bethany, and Salem twice, and Fairmont and Glenville once each, the Wesleyan Bobcats could muster only one win, coming at the expense of Glenville.

One of the highlights of the season came when Mary Bullington was matched against Salem's unbeaten No. 5 man, "Bull" proceeded to hand him his first defeat and teach him never to underestimate the power of a woman.

Wesleyan's tennis hopes are definitely brighter this season after losing only one letterman. The team will undoubtedly be built around these four returning lettermen: Graham Kenneweg, Bill Sperling, Steve Keosjian, and Joe Perez. Kenneweg had the best individual record of last year with five wins against three losses.

JAHN & OLLIER ENGRAVING CO.
CHICAGO

"Jahn & Ollier Again"

A familiar and reassuring slogan FAMILIAR...because it has appeared in thousands of the country's finest yearbooks for the past half century.
REASSURING...because those years of specialized experience bring complete service, outstanding quality and dependable delivery to the yearbook staffs, with whom we work.
